THE BIG PICTURE COACH

Patrick von Pander like many impassioned entrepreneurs, was inspired early in life. He began his career at age six working in the family's South Okanagan fruit farming business.

Graduating in 1986 from Simon Fraser University with a Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree, Patrick set to work with BIC Canada. His role in the consumer packaged goods industry over the next three years offered intense experience in the Vancouver, Victoria, and Winnipeg markets. On his return to Vancouver, Patrick saw 14 years of development with CTG, BC TEL and TELUS within the newly deregulated Canadian telecom industry.

For the past eight years, he has professionally coached businesspeople across British Columbia. A self-proclaimed serial entrepreneur, Patrick enjoys an affiliation with a number of business ventures and holds a special passion for the role of business in people's lives.
